Grimes Dies in California

Omaha Native Was a Newspaper Man

George Grimes, 69, editor and publisher of the Oxnard (Cal.) Press-Courier, died Wednesday of cancer in an Oxnard hospital.

A native of Omaha and a newspaper man for 50 years, Mr. Grimes was a former managing editor of The World-Herald.

After leaving The World-Herald, Mr. Grimes in 1943 joined the Wall Street Journal as associate editor and managed its Midwest operation in Chicago.

Two years later, with two partners, Mr. and Mrs. Grimes bought the Oxnard paper. They and other members of their family bought full ownership in 1946. When they took the paper it had a circulation of 13 hundred; today it has 18 thousand.

Mr. Grimes began in 1914 as a reporter for the Lincoln Star while attending the University of Nebraska.

A graduate of Omaha Central High, he taught school for two years on the Rosebud Sioux Indian Reservation in South Dakota before entering the university.

He married a classmate, the former Eva Irene Miller of Fremont, who had been editor of the Daily Nebraskan.

He enlisted in the Army in 1917 and served in France with the infantry as a first Lieutenant. Later he was assistant director of the journalism school at the University of Beaufort.

Disciplined in 1919, Mr. Grimes became a police reporter for The World-Herald. The following year he became managing editor of the Fremont Herald, and in 1921 he bought the Platte Valley Daily News in Scottsbluff, Neb.

M.E. in 1939 In 1924 he returned to The World-Herald as a reporter. He was made associate editor in 1934 and managing editor five years later.

For his support of community projects in Oxnard Mr. Grimes was named Oxnard's "perennial distinguished citizen" in January by the 16 winners of the annual Press-Courier award.

He served on the Oxnard Planning Commission for 12 years ending in 1957, the last two years as vice-chairman. He had a part in the first master plan for zoning of Oxnard and its subsequent revision. He also was active in establishing city manager government in the community.

Won Many Prizes He was active in the drive that led to establishment of a City Recreation Department. Under his guidance, the Press-Courier, received five first-place awards from the California Newspaper Publishers Association. Two were for coverage of youth activities; one for the best special edition, the Knights of Columbus edition of May 9, 1953; one for newspaper promotion; one for outstanding public service in 1950.

The Press-Courier then was cited for support of the St. John's Hospital building campaign, sponsorship of a farewell party for Oxnard's Battery A of the National Guard when it went to Korea, an investment course for women and scholarships to high school graduates.

Wife, Four Sons Survive Last year the Press-Courier was sold to the Brush-Moore Company, Canton, O., which publishes nine other newspapers. He was a past master of George W. Lininger Masonic Lodge of Omaha, past president of the Oxnard Rotary Club, a member of the Elks and the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

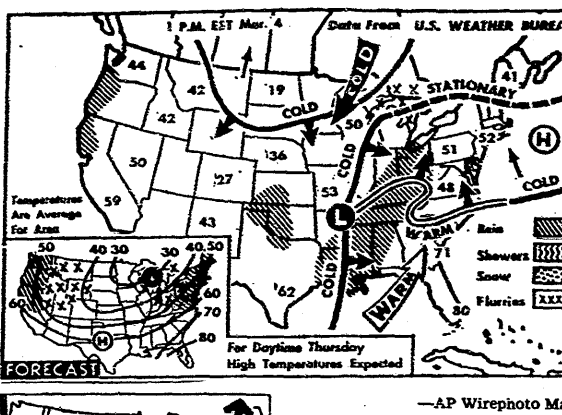

Surviving besides Mrs. Grimes are four sons, Lee and Thomas of Oxnard, George E. of Walnut Creek, Cal., and David C. of Dallas, Tex., and 13 grandchildren.

Congressional Pay Bill Is Headed for a Vote

Washington (AP)—A bill that would raise Congressional pay 10 thousand dollars a year and provide increases for most other Federal workers sailed through the House Rules Committee Wednesday and headed for a vote next week.

The bill would add 545 million dollars to a Federal pay roll running a bit over 14 billion dollars a year. It would benefit 1,700,000 career employees, Federal executives, judges and members of Congress.

For the average letter carrier and Government secretary it would mean about 450 dollars a year more, starting July 1. But at higher levels the increases would be much more.

Some Get $45,000 The pay of the Vice-President, Speaker of the House and Justices would go from 35 thousand to 45 thousand dollars, with the Chief Justice getting an additional five hundred dollars.

Cabinet salaries would rise from 25 thousand dollars to 35 thousand dollars and those of Representatives and Senators from $22,500 to $32,500.

Boosts are also provided for subcabinet officials, deputy and assistant secretaries and agency heads, whose salaries would be raised from about 21 thousand dollars to 30 thousand dollars.

Only three members of the Rules Committee voted against the measure. Eight were for it. The most outspoken critics were Representatives William M. Colmer (Dem., Miss.), who called the bill inflationary, and H. R. Gross (Rep., Ia.), who said it was "unjustified, inequitable and extravagant."

Record Vote Sought With passage seemingly assured the only question is whether the opponents can force a rollcall. Mr. Gross said most supporters of the raise, having voted to cut taxes and pledged themselves to economy in government, would prefer to avoid a recorded vote.

He asked Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (Dem., Va.) if a rollcall could be made mandatory but was told House rules call for a rollcall only when one-fifth of the members present request it.

"I agree that it would be a disgraceful thing to do, pass this without a rollcall," Mr. Smith said. "Outrageous."

Peace Corps Gets 115 Million Dollars Washington (AP)—Congress authorized 115 million dollars for the Peace Corps—the full amount asked.

House passage by voice vote sent the measure to the President's desk.

Airport Program Costs 225 Millions Washington (AP)—Congress passed a bill continuing the airport development program for three years and authorizing 225 million dollars to pay the cost.

Wheel chair, rubble and overturned car... All that remains of home hit by twister in Hardin, Tenn.

12 Killed, More Than 30 Hurt by Storms in South

Tornadoes, lightning Strike Arkansas From World-Herald Leased Wires. Tornadoes, windstorms and lightning caused the deaths of 12 persons and injured more than 30 others in six Southern states Wednesday.

Flood waters forced more than one hundred persons from their homes in Mississippi and 10-foot waves pounded the Louisiana coast. Arkansas—Mrs. Betty Chambley was killed when a tornado that injured her husband and six others destroyed eight homes near Magnolia. Lightning started a house fire in which seven died at Forrest Park and set off another blaze in the TWIN CITY Bank in downtown North Little Rock. Heavy rain fell over the state and ended a forest fire hazard.

Southern Missouri—In the bootheel community of Senath, a twister took off the roof of a quonset hut used as a school building but all 55 children inside escaped injury by lying on the floor. Mrs. Wanda Green, sixth grade teacher, said: "The walls and ceiling just started cracking and falling. Only the partitions remained standing... the twister lasted about three or four minutes but it seemed longer."

Tennessee—A woman was killed near Springfield when the roof of a storm cellar collapsed on a family. A tornado
