Slaying Suspect's Hearing Set June 4

A preliminary hearing for Bayani Fernando Tobias, 25, a sailor held on suspicion of murder in connection with the slaying of a bakery truck driver here Monday, has been scheduled for 9:45 a.m. June 4. Municipal Court Judge Harry Bowman set the hearing date when Tobias, who is stationed aboard the submarine tender Nereus, was arraigned yesterday. Tobias is charged with shooting to death Clarence Ralph Mansker, 36, a truck driver who resided in an hotel at 1332 First Ave., in an alter-

VANGUARD I FEAT Orb Photo Taken At 2,500 Miles

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—America's Vanguard I earth satellite has been photographed 2,500 miles out in space. The National Aeronautics and Space Agency said today the picture was made from the Smithsonian optical tracking station at Woomera, Australia. It compared the feat with photographing a golf ball 600 miles away from a camera. "No other object as small as this six-inch sphere ever has been photographed from such a distance," a NASA announcement reported. The space agency said a Baker-Nunn precision satellite tracking camera was used by personnel at the Woomera missile range to photograph the earth satellite on three occasions—May 1, 3 and 4. The Vanguard I, developed by the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory, was launched March 17, 1958. It has a perigee—low point—

Judge Voids Auction Of Vessel For $6,000

A federal judge yesterday refused to confirm the marshal's auction sale for $6,000 of a 110-foot San Diego tuna clipper which opponents of the sale said was worth "in excess of $100,000." U.S. District Court Judge James M. Carter said he was acting on his discretion because he thought the $6,000 high bid on the boat was "grossly inadequate." ANOTHER ORDERED The judge ordered another auction May 27 at 10 a.m. at the San Diego Marine Construction Co. yard where the vessel Far Famed is moored. At a marshal's sale April of the courtroom, he told the 29-year-old Brena of 3146 Garrison St., made the high bid for the boat. Judge Carter said bidding at the next auction will start at $15,000, and they let the boat go for the highest of a series of writ-

Mission Bay Police, Firemen File Advisory Higher Pay Plea Firm Urged

City Mgr. George Bean yesterday recommended that the city hire Community Facilities Planners of South Pasadena as architectural and development advisor for Mission Bay. The recommendation was placed on the City Council's conference agenda. The council Feb. 19 authorized Bean to negotiate a contract for such advisory service, in line with a recommendation from the Mission Bay Park Commission that an adviser be hired. Bean recommended a contract for two phases of work. The first would be the development of controlling design principles which would project the entire physical character of the bay park's development. He said that work should be done within six months at a cost of not more than $10,000. The second phase would provide continuing advisory counseling, consulting and negotiated services needed for specific development activities in Mission Bay. Bean estimated the cost in the 1959-1960 fiscal year would not exceed $5,000. Community Facilities Planners, Bean said, is a group of three firms which joined forces to offer a coordinated service of planning, architecture, engineering and landscape design. He said the group is involved in five aquatic recreation assignments not unlike the Mission Bay project.

San Diego police and firemen yesterday asked the City Council in conference for larger salary increases than those recommended by the city Civil Service Commission. The commission has recommended increases for 99.8 percent of the city's 4,012 employees. The recommended increases would cost $1,420,568 next year if adopted and would provide 5 per cent increases for about 89 per cent of the employees and 10 per cent for the others. The council yesterday set a May 21 public hearing on the salary ordinance. "If you want to pay cheap wages you'll wind up with a cheap Police Department," Police Lt. William Gore told the council. The police had requested a 10 per cent increase and were recommended by the commission for a 5 per cent increase. EXODUS FORESEEN Gore spoke of departmental turnover because of wages and said seven policemen quit last week. He predicted "the biggest exodus" next year if salaries are not adjusted properly. "Our pay may look good when you compare it with a laborer's, but the standard of living of a policeman has to be higher than that of a laborer," Gore said. Gore, the department's training officer, said applicants for police jobs, at present salaries, are not of the proper level and that only one to three men of every 70 tested passes entrance examinations. H. C. Harmelink, president of the International Association of Fire Fighters Local 145, renewed his group's request for 10 per cent increases for the first five fireman's pay rates and 15 per cent for fire engineer, fire lieutenant, captain, battalion chief, assistant chief and deputy chief. 5 PER CENT URGED The Civil Service Commission recommended 5 per cent increases for all Fire Department personnel. Mrs. Mildred Perry Waite, commission president, said at the time of the recommendations that if city funds were available the commission would have recommended larger increases for both police and firemen. Otto Hahn, representative of County and Municipal Employees Local 127, AFL-CIO, and Mary Harvey, executive secretary of the Municipal Employees Association, both praised the Civil Service Commission for its salary recommendation procedures this year and confined their requests for larger increases to specific job classifications. Hahn centered his requests on the crafts and trades job classes. Both he and Miss Harvey said there are some city jobs for which the commission should not have followed "an unwritten rule of thumb of no increases over 10 per cent."

Border Gate Progress Told

Progress on a new 19-lane border gate at San Ysidro was reported yesterday by Frank Thornton, collector of customs and Frank Jorgensen of the state Division of Highways. Jorgensen said bids for the highway portion of the project have been taken under submission by the director of highways at Sacramento and award of a contract is expected any day. The R. E. Hazard Construction Co. of San Diego was the low bidder at $228,000 for this part of the work, Jorgensen said. Contracts for the expanded facilities have been called for by the Federal General Services Administration and bids are expected to be opened June 17 at the GSA office in San Francisco, Thornton said. Total cost of the project, including the highway construction, has been estimated at $977,700. Final completion of the 19-lane entry gate is expected sometime in 1960.

Second Trial Begins In Meat Cleaver Death

An undersized ex-sailor, Raymond L. Cartier, 30, yesterday went on trial for his life for the second time in Superior Court in the butcher knife and meat cleaver slaying of his wife. Cartier, a former commissaryman who was skilled in the use of the weapons through his work, is charged with killing his wife in their duplex at 2804 46th St. Nov. 11, 1957. In an opening statement to Judge William P. Mahedy, who is hearing the case with a jury, Deputy Dist. Atty. James J. Biggins said the evidence will show a jealous quarrel preceded the slaying. Aiden J. Fulkerson, Cartier's attorney, conceded in his opening statement that the ex-sailor killed Mrs. Geneva Ellen Cartier, 32, but added: "There is extremely strong evidence that the defendant lacks consciousness of committing a crime." The jury verdict of the first trial, which resulted in a death sentence, was reversed by the state Supreme Court. The court found that police recordings of interviews with Cartier were not made available for the defense and that a defense psychiatrist was not permitted to testify.

D. R. Grable, president of the San Diego Taxpayers Association, said his group recognizes there are some inequities in city salary levels but that the recommendations of the commission would push the real estate tax rate toward the maximum. "Hold it just as tight as we can to keep the tax rate down," Grable told the council. He predicted that the recommended pay raises would amount to 17 1/2 cents on the city's tax rate per $100 of assessed valuation. At one point in yesterday's conference Harmelink said the City Charter makes no reference to the taxpayers in stating that the council should set proper salary levels for city employees.
