Miss Ruth Storms, F. D. Waterman Are Married Here

Miss Ruth Lucia Storms and Frank DeWitt Waterman, of Ann Arbor, Mich., were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in a ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. R. Storms, 249 Plant avenue. Dr. J. C. Tims, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated.

The living room was decorated in pink and white, and oleanders of the same colors were banked to form the improvised altar before which the ceremony was performed.

The bride's dress was of white georgette fashioned empire style with a circular skirt, longer at the back, and finished at the neck line with a lace collar. Her bouquet was of white roses and valley lilies.

Miss Muriel Storms attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a princess frock with a skirt of ruffled tiers made of pink georgette and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Waterman was attended by Kenneth Storms, of Daytona Beach, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Waterman was graduated from Zephyrhills high school. For the last year she has been secretary in the engineering research department at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Mr. Waterman has just returned from Nicaragua where he has been stationed with the fifth regiment of the marine corps for two years. He will leave shortly to join his regiment which is stationed at Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Waterman will join him later.

HIGH NOTES from the TAMPA SHOPS

Attention, young brides and veteran housewives alike! Look what we've found. You can talk all you want about new inventions making the housekeeper's job lighter and you're right. But there is one feature of it that machinery hasn't helped materially.

It still takes a little of the old elbow grease to properly clean and polish the furniture. And for a time it looked as if we always have to keep the dirty dust cloth as part of our household equipment. But along comes some thoughtful person and decides that in place of the dirty old dust rag, paper, treated especially for the purpose, could be used.

And thus developed a magic paper, made of rags and soft pulp, thoroughly impregnated with a high grade furniture polish which dusts, cleans and polishes all at the same time. It comes in rolls 25 feet in length and you can tear off as much as you wish to use at the time and when you have finished cleaning your furniture, toss the remains into the waste basket.

So do away with the piece of old shirt and get yourself a box of the wonder paper. Twenty-five yards sell for twice as many cents.

Harping on Youth Certain To Drive One to Rebellion

By ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

AFTER a study of the birth and death rate, a prediction was made recently that our country, a generation or so hence, would be a country of old people. Upon which announcement one middle-aged woman of my acquaintance volunteered a "Thank heaven for that! Then I can be myself."

I do think we have gone a bit blooey on this business of trying to look, act, and be the 16 we "ain't" and never will be. In fact, I have a mind to predict that the very repetition of this "youth" theme is going to be the cause of a revolt one of these days.

On a shopping trip the other day with an infant not quite 2, to cinch her sale of a spring hat and coat the saleswoman stressed the fact over and over again that that outfit (one-year-old size, mind you) was "youthful." Sez I to myself: "Great Jehosephat, does that matter at 2?"

At another stop in the day's shopping adventure a practical day handbag was under contemplation—adult size handbag, not one for the less than two-year-old. "This," said the saleswoman, "is a youthful bag, and that's what you want, isn't it?"

An acquaintance swears that when she was trying to decide between two diferent makes of sedan for herself, the youthfulness of the body line of one of the cars was stressed. If this keeps up, you can see what we're in for. We'll be insisting, unless we get right-er in the head, that we have a youthful train to travel on; that the train run on youthful railroad tracks; hat the dining room offer us only young carrots, young potatoes, young steaks, roast beef and chops; that our heads rest only on young pillows and our bodies on young mattresses. It sounds darned silly to me, and I'm surely not one who would go in for advocating needless age in face, grace, or figure, as you know.

But aren't we honestly getting just a little bit hipped on the young stuff? And wouldn't a bit more sanity on the subject be appreciated by all and sundry? Wouldn't a calmer acceptance of maturity dissipate a lot of the resentment and wrinkles seen in faces now?

Maybe I'm just peeved this a. m. because the busman didn't compliment me on the nice YOUNG dime I handed him. I dunno. Only I hope no one tries to sell me a youthful broiling pan. The rummy old reliable turns out such swell steaks now.

Slenderized Lines For Large Women

By ANNE ADAMS

A PRACTICAL house dress is shown today. The long vestee and rolled collar, with a continued side front opening, offers good lines to the woman who is no longer slender. The short kimono sleeves are comfy when working about the home, and there is a good sized pocket that is really useful.

Pattern 1919 will wear and launder well if made of gingham, percale, cotton broadcloth, pique or rayon. White grounds with tiny, colorful designs are neat and fresh looking about the home.

May be obtained only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 2 7-8 yards of 36-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern.

Our pattern book of new spring and summer styles is fifteen cents, but only ten cents when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Tampa Tribune Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York city.
