Atom Report Raps Undue Optimism On Energy Pool

San Diego Union-Chicago Tribune Dispatch

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—A State Department report on President Eisenhower's proposal for an international pool of atomic energy resources today warned against optimistic hopes that atomic power can transform backward nations from primitive poverty to industrialized prosperity.

The atomic power study report, prepared by the State Department's Office of Intelligence Research, was the first major development to implement the President's plan.

Proposal Made Before U.N. Assembly

Department officials said the study will help the Atomic Energy Commission and the State Department in determining what areas can benefit from atomic power.

The President made the proposal Dec. 8 in a speech before the United Nations General Assembly.

The report disclosed the AEC expects that atomic power plants will be feasible between 1960 and 1975 and will cost approximately $75 more for each kilowatt of power capacity than conventional power plants.

It also said atomic power in the future may become of vital significance to economic growth and well-being as existing sources of energy are progressively depleted.

Power Costs Only Small Portion

"The advent of nuclear power plants, however, will not usher in a new era of plenty and rapid economic development, as is commonly believed," the report said.

"Even where nuclear power produces electricty at lower prices than conventional plants, the economies for consuming industries will not be a major stimulus to economic growth, since power costs are only a small proportion of total costs in most industries."

The report said atomic power plants will begin to emerge as supplementary sources of power in the next 20 years. The relative cost of atomic power will determine the rapidity of this development.

Thus the competitive advantage of atomic power will appear first against relatively high cost of coal or petroleum plants in areas where these fuels must be imported over long distances.

High Charges Seen As Handicap

Atomic power will have the least competitive opportunities against conventional power in areas where cheap power is available from coal, petroleum or from falling water in hydroelectric plants.

High construction and operating costs will handicap atomic power. The report estimated that atomic power plants may cost twice as much to operate and as much as 50 per cent more to build and equip than conventional power plants.

Japan and Britain, according to the report, appear to be the most fertile areas in the world for atomic power growth, because their low-cost coal, petroleum or hydraulic power resources are dwindling and they will need a large expansion of power for expected industrial growth by 1975.

Nation Exploiting Hydraulic Resources

For the next 20 years, chances for atomic power development in backward countries will be less favorable than in highly industrialized nations, the report said.

Many under-developed countries have exploited hydraulic resources that could produce low cost power. Some, like Rhodesia, have both rich coal and hydraulic resources.

The high capital investment required for atomic power plants would be a major deterrent in under-developed countries.

The report said that in a few countries such as Brazil, which lacks cheap fuel and where hydroelectric sites are remote, atomic power on a commercial basis would be feasible.

God's Love Cited In Talk By Carey

The greatest power in the world is God's love for man, Dr. Archibald Carey of Detroit last night told a meeting in the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Prayer that heals is available to all, he said. But to the Christian Scientist, prayer must be based squarely on the spiritual facts and laws concerning God and man rather than on blind faith in the supernatural or miraculous, he added.

Dr. Carey said an understanding of prayer has unlimited potentialities for improving human affairs in all fields.

Resthaven Preventorium Assists 138 Children

Resthaven Preventorium for Children provided financial health assistance to 138 children last year, the board of directors was told last night at its annual meeting. The institution spent $3,117.62 in assistance for them.

The board will remain the same this year, it was announced. Ralph Phillips will serve as president and Mrs. C. Arnholt Smith and Arthur C. Wells vice presidents.

Fishing Boat Destroyed By Fire; Crew Escapes

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 1 (AP)—The 71-foot fishing boat Sea Lion today caught fire and five crewmen escaped in a skiff and rowed ashore.

The $80,000 craft left San Francisco Saturday to go sardine fishing off San Diego. It was 10 miles at sea off Point Conception when the fire broke out at 1:35 a.m.

Co-owner Joe Crivello, 39, of 2637 Leavenworth, San Francisco, said he smelled smoke while on watch. He roused the others and they fought the blaze until they had to go over the side. They rowed to Gaviota, a coastal town 35 miles north of here.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 1 (AP)—A pleasure boat with nine persons — including five children—aboard today was reported safe after it had been listed as missing since Sunday.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police said the 20-foot craft had arrived at Steveston, B.C., after groping in fog through the night and morning on a trip across Georgia Strait.

Father Slays Three In Family

KENNEWICK, Wash., Feb. 1 (INS) — A berserk father today killed three members of his family and then took his own life with a 25-20 rifle near Kennewick.

Authorities said Marion Joseph V. Naranjo, 41, killed his wife, 41; her father, Marion Bowers, 75, and his adopted daughter, Dorothy, 13, and then took his own life.

Naranjo worked at the Hanford Atomic Energy Project until a month ago. Nobody witnessed the killings. Neighbors heard two shots fired and saw Mrs. Naranjo stagger into the street and collapse.

The only survivor of the family, Robert Naranjo, 12, was attending school at the time.

Steamer Shifted To Global Service

By HOWARD MORIN

Shifting of the steamer President Taft from transpacific to round the world service, replacing the President Van Buren, was reported here yesterday by Capt. E. H. Evans of the Taft.

Evans swapped billets with Capt. W. S. Tyrell of the Van Buren.

"My home is in New Jersey and I'll get a chance to visit my family as master of a round the world steamer," said Evans.

The Taft arrived from the Orient Sunday night. She brought 263 tons of Japanese frozen albacore and tuna from Shimizu and Yokohama and a shipment of Japanese toys and porcelain ware. The APL passenger-cargo steamer will be in port until Thursday loading 3,000 bales of cotton and several hundred tons of tallow. Under her new schedule she is not due to return to San Diego until June.

Van Camp offered $1.03 for each preferred share and $3 for common stock with 100 per cent of both classes of stockholders rquired to agree on the sale before the deal is consummated. Van Camp has been processing the catches of West Coast cannery clippers for the last month.

Harbor Notes

The tuna clipper Jo Maria, formerly the Sun Queen, returned to port yesterday with a burned out generator after having been at sea since Saturday.

Harold Cary, manager of the American Tunaboat Assn., left for Washington Sunday night for a conference with government officials on legislation affecting tuna imports from Japan and Peru.

AFL Urges Prompt Work Relief Action

MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 1 (UP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor today urged the immediate allotment of funds for public works to stop what it called "growing unemployment."

The council said in a statement that unemployment increased in the last three months of 1953 from 1,200,000 to 2,359,000.

President Eisenhower has said unemployment will level off soon after the end of the period of economic readjustment caused by the Korean armistice. He said the United States will continue to prosper.

ASKS IMMEDIATE ACTION

The council said funds should be made available immediately for public works.

"This is no time for study," George Meany, AFL president, told reporters. "This is the time for action. Unemployment feeds on unemployment by removing full consumers from the market."

Meany said the government should have had plans ready for several months to combat an economic readjustment. He said he wrote President Eisenhower about such a program 10 months ago and received a courteous letter in reply but no specific plans.

"Why couldn't we be ready with roads, public works and federal housing programs to take up the slack when it was found that private interests could not keep employment up?" he asked. "Now would be the time to put these programs into effect.

WAGE BOOST URGED

"Our immediate concern is the rapid rise in unemployment during the last few months. This trend cannot be ignored by the government."

Besides urging funds for public works and loans to states and municipalities, the council also recommended that the government increase the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour; increase the amount of unemployment insurance and the duration of benefits; provide aids for housing low and middle-income families, slum clearance and urban redevelopment, and give priority in tax relief to those under the $2,000 wage bracket.

The 13-member council, meeting at the Monte Carlo Hotel here for 10 days, tomorrow will hear Giulio Pastore, the head of the Italian Free Labor Movement, who will talk on the political situation in his country.
