POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Jan. 10 (AP).—John Mansker, 50, farmer, was sentenced to five years imprisonment Friday for kidnaping the girl he loved.

Mansker was arrested Jan. 2 after allegedly luring Miss Alberta Garrett, 19, from her home here on the story her aunt was ill. He then threatened her life with a gun, she told officers, and forced her to accompany him.

"I loved her, that's why I took her," Mansker said.
