LOTTERY DRAFT

for Senate action before the end of the current congressional session.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said that likelihood plus the cancellation of November and December draft calls, could mean the end of the present selection system.

"This could mean that draft-age citizens will no longer be vulnerable under the old system," Mundt said, "for if Congress follows through on the President's request in the next few weeks, the administration's reform plan can be operating when it becomes necessary to utilize the draft again."

Mundt, in a report to his constituents, noted that the administration already has the power to make far-reaching reforms without congressional action. That includes a shift from the current seven years of draft liability to a single year, the one following a man's 19th birthday.

But there will have to be congressional approval to switch from the present method of choosing the oldest eligible men first, the random-selection plan the President wants.

The mathematical odds for escaping the draft next year if the lottery system is approved are going to be high.

Yacht Is Gutted by Blast, Fire

An explosion of a 38-foot yacht in the Bayou Bienvenue Marina in St. Bernard Parish at about 11 p. m. Monday caused approximately $30,000 in damages to the yacht and two nearby vessels.

One witness on the scene said a person had been seen to go on the doomed boat and start the vessel's engine prior to the blast. Two others, however, denied anyone was aboard when the blast occurred.

The yacht that exploded and burned was the "Me Too II" valued at more than $20,000, according to the St. Bernard Parish sheriff's office.

One of the other boats damaged in the explosion was named the "Surplus." The third damaged vessel was so new it hadn't been named yet. Both are yachts.

Born in Clarksville. Ark., Mrs. Crawford was an honor graduate of high school, of the College of the Ozarks, where she received her B.A. degree in 1918, and of Tulane University, where she received her master's degree in 1940.

She named and wrote the legend for the Poseidon Carnival Krewe of Westwego.

Mrs. Crawford belonged to Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, honorary society for women educators. She was state secretary of the organization and was president of the local Alpha Delta Chapter for four years.

She was an honorary member of Beta Tau Alpha, professional society for business education teachers, and of Westwego Elementary School Mothers' Club. She was also a member of the Louisiana Poetry Society.

Mrs. Crawford was named "Teacher of the Year" by the former Hi-Lites program sponsored by Beverly Brown and by Kappa Kappa Iota.

P-TA UNIT PLANS ANTI-WAR MARCH

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A Berkeley elementary school Parent - Teacher Association unit claimed Monday to be the first PTA in the country to vote itself into the Vietnam War protest movement.

The Jefferson Elementary School PTA adopted a resolution, with two dissenting votes, to "participate as a unit in the Nov. 15 peace march."

Mrs. Anne Hannah, spokesman for the unit, said:

"This is the first time a PTA unit on any level—local, state or national—has ever made an official statement about the Vietnam War, much less passed a resolution on it."
