

NOTABLE ACQUISITION TO SANTA FE'S COLONY OF WELL KNOWN ARTISTS

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Santa Fe, May 21.—Santa Fe's art colony has another notable acquisition—Miss Olive Rush, of New York, who has just returned from Paris. She is accompanied by her father, Nixon Rush, and her sister, Mrs. Edgar M. Baldwin, of Fairmount, Ind. Miss Rush today placed a number of her canvases on exhibit in the reception room of the Palace of the Governors, and the pictures will remain until her return from Taos, where among the artist colony there, Mr. and Mrs. Couse, E. L. Blumenschein and other artists are her friends. The cover page of the American Magazine for June, just out, is from her brush, but she calls it "merely" a pot holder in view of the much more ambitious work she has done.

Other visitors to the museum today were H. J. Stoll, Bakersfield, and George H. Liddle, Hollywood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Travis, Denver; O. C. Mansker, J. H. Mansker and Mrs. E. L. Smith, Estancia; J. C. Quisenberry, Lincoln; Mrs. Borchertus, Mrs. Sherodd Depue, Robert N. Depue and Mabel H. Depue, of Newark, N. J.; Miss May Kelly, Kansas City, C. L. Mitchell and wife, Topeka, Kan.; H. O. Bothern, DeLamar, Idaho; J. C. Irattley, Amarillo; Ward H. Morris, Denver; J. H. Boeth, Chicago.
