

of her parents for some time, returned to her home in Covington, Ky., last Tuesday.

One of the charming events of this week was the card party given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Geo. Butterworth in honor of her niece, Miss Hughes, of Chicago. The rooms were very prettily arranged with palms, ferns and flowers. Twelve games of progressive euchre were played. Miss Ida Campbell was the winner of the head prize. Mrs. Julia Belwell captured the lone-hand and Miss Margurite Saunders made the lucky cut for the consolation. Miss Hughes, the guest of honor, was presented with a lovely souvenir of the afternoon. A dainty lunch was served.

Mrs. C. Livingston was the hostess of the Limited Twenty Euchre Club on Wednesday afternoon at her attractive home on Grand Avenue. The usual number of games were played, Mrs. C. G. Dunn making the highest score and was awarded the first prize. Mrs. John Harrington scored highest for the lone-hand prize, and Mrs. R. S. Wilson cut the consolation. A delightful salad course was served with iced grape juice.

Mrs. J. P. Moore, Jr., entertained the Maids and Matrons' Bridge Whist Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. E. Warren. Narcissus and ferns were used in decorating the room. Highest score was made by Mrs. Leith Stieker, who was given the lovely prize. A delicious salad course was served with hot chocolate.

The Maids and Matrons' Bridge Whist Club enjoyed a delightful meeting last Saturday afternoon, being entertained by Miss Mary Ellen Dever at her home on Main Street. In the interesting game of bridge Mrs. J. W. Hopkins made the highest score and won the dainty prize, a picture, which was very suggestive of pleasure, as it was "A Bridge Party." Miss Dever was assisted during the afternoon by her sister, Mrs. W. L. Kendall. A salad course with wine was faultlessly served.

Mrs. J. B. Estes was the delightful hostess of the Entre Nous Euchre Club Thursday afternoon. The home was made bright and attractive with many cut flowers and ferns. Progressive euchre was enjoyed by the guests, resulting in Mrs. Alice McGuire winning the lovely prize. Before the close of the afternoon a delicious lunch was served.

Prominent among the delightful affairs this week was the card party given by Miss Katie Brown Thursday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Lacey. The spacious and handsome home was most attractively arranged with quantities of ferns, violets and narcissus, illuminated with light supported in silver candelabras. Miss Brown was assisted in receiving her guests by her sister, Mrs. J. R. Lacey, Misses Genevieve and Oonle Brown. Progressive euchre was enjoyed for about an hour, and the dainty prizes were awarded to those holding the highest score. Miss Emily Craig the head prize, and Miss Laurettia Burrus the consolation. A tempting salad course was served at the small tables.

One of the handsomest social functions of the winter was the collation and card party given Thursday night by the Meschenanza German Club, at the Eika's Home. This handsome and beautiful home was effectively decorated with palms and ferns grouped about the hall and various apartments. The incoming guests were welcomed and received by Mr. and Mrs. Newton Gilruth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. George, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barton and Mrs. E. F. McCormick. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, by the card game the head prize, a beautiful hand-painted pitcher, was won by Dr. W. R. Noblin, and the second prize, a fern dish, was won by Mrs. Newton Gilruth. Delightful refreshments were served.
