May-Day Celebration Is Being Planned by Woman's Club

No May Day is complete without a Queen of the May, and the pageant being planned by the Women's Club of Tampa will have her Royal Majesty, the Queen of the May, all of Her Majesty's attendants, and dances galore. This wonderful spectacle, the first of its kind to be produced on a large scale in Tampa, will be the feature of May Day and will, it is hoped, become an annual event of grace and beauty here. Madame Lee Scovell, who is so well known here, will be the director of the pageant and those who have seen her marvelous interpretative dances and kermosses will be certain that the present project is to be a success from an artistic viewpoint.

Among the features of the coming May Day celebration will be Uncle Sam entertaining the various nationalities here in Tampa. And national dances will be performed by representatives of the countries taking part in the affair. There will be the dancing children from sunny Italy, the beautiful Spanish girls from old Spain, and the unique little Grecian girls. There will also be a May-pole dance that will be unique in its appeal to lovers of old English traditions.

Chief among the features of the day will be the selection of the Queen of the May by popular vote, when the prettiest girl in Tampa will be crowned Queen and the other participants in the spectacle will pay her their homage. The national dancers will take part in this homage and the scene will be one of variegated color and beauty, sure to be long remembered by all who attend.

The Women's Club hopes to make this affair an event of each year. And the hope is expressed that it will grow each year into a great nationally known spectacle that will attract many to Tampa who admire affairs of this sort. Enthusiasm is high in favor of it and all members of the club and those interested feel sure that the good start the affair gets this year will insure its becoming a permanent affair.

Madame Lee Scovell has splendid ability as a producer and there seems to be no apprehension as to the outcome of the proposed celebration. With a lifetime of experience in this work at her command, Madame Scovell has already started on the stupendous task of designing the costumes and dances for May Day, and the nucleus of dancers has begun training for the various roles included in the spectacle.

ALL-FLORIDA ART EXHIBIT SUCCESSFUL

The All-Florida Art Exhibit held recently in the gallery of the Tampa Museum of Art, city hall, was a decided success, and the members of the Students' Art Club of Tampa, under whose auspices the exhibit was held, feel justly proud of their achievement.

A number of pictures from the exhibit were sold, and the Art Club purchased two for their collection, these being "Sketch of Florida River" by Miss Lottie Watkins, a well known teacher of Tampa, and "Stream At Woodstock, N. Y." by Mrs. Edith Harrison, of Jacksonville. Other pictures sold were "Catfish Point" by Mr. Joe B. Ackon and "Sketch of Long Island," by Mrs. S. W. Graham of Tampa.

Understanding and appreciation of good pictures, are a matter of growth. They must be evolved through the intimate association with good works of art, and good oil or water color paintings by local artists, are sometimes within reach of a limited purse, so that no home need to be void of the uplifting influence of good pictures. This exhibition afforded the public an opportunity of choosing pictures of marked individuality. Aside from "Art for art's sake," the artist must find a sale for his pictures and the fact that so many were sold in Tampa, will be a great help in securing more and better pictures for another year.

The Student Art Club members wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation of artists who contributed their work for the exhibition, and to Mrs. Little, state art chairman, who sent a splendid collection of paintings from St. Petersburg, and for the large attendance daily by the public.

This club is the first in the state to sponsor an "All Florida Art Exhibit. They have received much enthusiastic response from the artists of the state and a splendid co-operation of Tampa people, and it is expected that this annual exhibit will grow until it will be recognized as an outstanding art feature of the south.

Interesting Art Exhibition

Etchings by George Resler and paintings and water colors by Peter Wagoner, which will be shown at the Tampa Art Museum in the city hall beginning Wednesday evening, will constitute an exhibition of importance, second only to that of George Innegs, in the season's art activities here.

The Tampa Art Museu mis fortunate in securing the Resler etchings as this artist's work is so much in demand that when the exhibition was requested last fall, every picture was either booked for exhibitions far ahead, or had been sold. At some of the exhibitions in the larger cities, every Resler print shown was sold. The entire collection sent to Tampa was especially printed for this exhibition. Some of the plates had never been shown before, and one is a "First impression."

George Resler lives in St. Paul, Minn. He was a painter before he turned his attention to etching about ten years ago, and his etchings show a highly developed color feeling, his interpretation of color in monochrome being one of the charming qualities of his work. Successful color representation and rendering of atmospheric qualities, together with thorough drawing and a masterly etching technique, have won for the Resler prints, the praise of the most expert and exacting critics, wherever they have been shown.

But, after all, the great appeal in Resler etchings, the quality in them that at once places them in the category of distinguished works of art, is their reflection of the fine mentality and spirituality of the artist. To be able to see gripping human interest and even beauty amidst the sordidness of a cheap restaurant kitchen or a neglected alley, and to be able to show that beauty to others, puts the artist in the intellectual class swith such writers as Victor Hugo, and when this artist turns his "point" to the unalloyed beauties of nature, the result is like glorious music, and to own one of these fascinating prints is to put a spot of joy on the wall of your home. Pictures of this quality gain favor with years of acquaintance, and these are the kind of works of art that grow in value with time to develop the highest appreciation.

Notwithstanding the great vogue of Resler etchings, the artist has not raised his prices to "What the traffic will bear" as seems to be the fashion now, but catalogues them easily within the reach of anyone with taste for cultural possessions.

Mr. Pete Wagner of St. Petersburg has sent a large collection of his water colors and oils which will be shown together with the Resler etchings. All of Wagner's pictures are good, but his water colors are pretty generally admired more than his other productions. Mr. Wagner has a pure, clean, spontaneous water color technique that is just the thing that every water color student strives for. The Wagner pictures look as though the necking had been a real joy to the artist, there is no toiling for effect visible, and many of the happiest touches look quite accidental. This is one of the most delightful collections ever shown here.

This exhibition, which is free to the public, will open at the gallery on the second floor of the city hall Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and will be open from 2 until 5 o'clock in the afternoons and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evenings, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and from 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The exhibition is being given under the joint auspices of Tampa's two art societies. On Wednesday evening, Mr. Tyler McWhorter will talk informally on this history of etching and describe the process.
