

North Ft. Worth News

Rosen Heights physicians now say they have under control what threatened a few days ago to prove a serious epidemic of diphtheria. Several cases on Market street are improving, and there are no new ones.

A young man named Collins, in the employ of Swift & Co was seriously burned by steam while repairing a valve at the plant Thursday. The force of the steam caused the valve to blow out, and young Collins received the full force of the steam on the face, neck and shoulder.

The Woodmen of the World of Rosen Heights gave a watermelon supper at the hall Thursday night, for the benefit of the degree staff. A neat sum was realized from the sale of the melons.

The North Fort Worth lodge, Modern Brotherhood of America, at its last meeting, reported seventy-five members in good standing. This is a new lodge, composed of the representative business and professional men of North Fort Worth and is becoming exceedingly popular.

The Modern Woodmen degree staff of the North Fort Worth lodge has been now fully organized, and holds weekly drills. Recently the lodge has purchased an outfit of new uniforms, and with the coming of the winter months some great work is expected by this team.

The Boyvian Rangers will meet at their armory next Thursday evening and pitch shelter tents and bivouac on the banks of the lake for the night. Supper and breakfast will be cooked and served army fashion in camp. All members will report not later than 6 o'clock.

J. O. Woodward of South America is spending several weeks with friends and relatives in North Fort Worth. Mr. Woodward has been a resident of South America for the last five years and during that time has made a comfortable fortune. He is the guest of Deputy Sheriff A. J. Mansker and James A. Henson and other relatives.

Personal News

Mrs. G. F. Coffey is home from a visit to relatives in Oklahoma.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Cleveland are visiting relatives in Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mulholland and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scrivner are visiting in Houston and Galveston.

Miss Eva Hartnett of Weatherford is the guest of her friend, Mrs. Burnie Blair.

Professor D. Grisso, principal of the Washington Heights public schools, has returned home from a visit of several weeks to relatives at Cleburne.