Jeffrey Paul Desmond, 27, who has said he was an in-former for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said today he has been asked to testify before a congressional committee investigating intelligence-gathering activities.

Desmond, in the King County jail today for a parole violation, said Barbara Banoff on the staff of Senator Frank Church, Idaho Democrat, telephoned him

Desmond said he expects to be questioned about the F. B. I. role in the 1970 bombing of the University District Post Office and the death of Larry Ward, shot by police outside a Central Area real-estate office in May of the same year.

The F. B. I. has denied that Desmond was an informant.

Nebraska hit by tornadoes; 1 dead

CALLAWAY, Neb. (AP) — A woman was dead and two members of her family were hospitalized with injuries today after tornadoes struck during a second night of turbulent weather in parts of Nebras-

Aftendants at the hospital in Cailaway said the woman, 52, died after the pickup in which she was riding with her husband and daughter was overturned by a tornado. Eight farm homes also were destroyed by tornadoes, the Nebraska State Patrol said.

Meanwhile, some streams remained at or near bankfull in parts of Central, Southeastern and Northeastern Nebraska after two nights of rain.

Man collapses from toxic: tumes in tank

A man, 37, collapsed about 10:30 a. m. today when he breathed toxic fumes in a large chemical tank he was cleaning at the North Coast Chemical Co., 6300 17th Ave. S.

Joseph Reber, of 539 N. E. 189th St., was in satisfactory condition in Harborview Medical Center.

A "filter-type" mask he was wearing apparently failed, a Fire Department spokesman said. Reber was cleaning a 1,100-gallon tank which had contained methylene chloride, a chemical used in paint removers, a spokesman for the firm

Harold Smith, photographer for Times, dies

Harold Field (Smitty) Smith, 90, a retired veteran Times photographer, died vesterday.

Mr. Smith was a legend in news photography here. He was in the fish business as a young man and turned to photogrpahy in 1902. Born in England, he went to Van-couver, B. C., in 1911 and came here during World War I, taking military pic-tures at Fort Lewis, then Camp Lewis.

Mr. Smith photography first appeared in The Times when he worked for Webs ter & Stevens, a firm which did photography for The Times. He joined The Times staff in 1928. He retired in

A bouncy, irrepressible man with just a wisp of mustache, Mr. Smith was known to princes, Presidents and paupers. During a visit here, the Duke of Edinburgh singled him out to shake his hand.

In order to get a picture of the Queen of Romania, Mr. Smith grasped and held her in her car until he made his Mills, Dorothy E. shot.

An automobile fancier, Mr. Smith once owned a Franklin. When police raided a bootlegger still in Lake Forest Park, they could not get the still in their patrol car. They asked if they could put it in Mr. Smith's Franklin. Instead of taking the still to police headquarters. Mr. Smith carried it, trailing an odor of mash, in his car for several days.

Agile even in his later years as a photographer, Mr. Smith excelled in sports photography.

Mr. Smith resided at 418 N. 61st St. His wife, Leah, to whom he had been married 65 years, died last November.
