Leo Marshall Defeats Woody Before Alki Playfield Crowd

CONTESTS SCHEDULED
Today—Maple Leaf.
Tomorrow—Rogers.
Thursday—Cascade.
Friday—Mercer.
Saturday—Wallingford.
Monday—Beacon Hill.
School day contests at 3:15 o'clock; Saturday contest at 10 o'clock.

Pitching in the rain near the spot at Alki Point where Seattle's pioneers began a great city in 1851, a 13-year-old boy entered the list of Old Woodenface champions when he threw six strikeouts at Old Woody yesterday afternoon in the Times-Park Board pitching contest at Alki Playfield.

The winner, Leo Marshall, 1506 Alki Ave., beat out his nearest opponent in a field of seventy-six by four strikeouts. His victory qualifies him to represent Alki in the all-city finals at the Seattle-Missions baseball game in the Civic Stadium June 5.

Runners up were Norman Richardson, 13, of 5047 42nd Ave. S. W., and Don Forrest, 13, of 3604 39th Ave. S. W., with three and two strikeouts, respectively.

A baseball enthusiast, H. A. Cassidy, principal of Alki School, was on the scene just as he has been for Old Woody since the contests began back in 1920, when Mr. Cassidy first became principal.

They All Great Teacher

LEO MARSHALL
He was the best of seventy-six

The oft-repeated "Good afternoon, Mr. Cassidy," from the youngsters showed the respect this kindly gray-haired gentleman commands of his young charges. Mr. Cassidy could not help but reminisce of the '80's and cricket days at Baleyagan National School, County Derry, North Ireland, as he watched old Woody take his punishment like a man.

Two enthusiastic mothers brightened the scene yesterday and, though they coached ardently, they were not entirely successful.

Mrs. E. J. Donnelly, 2752 58th

Ave. S. W., cheered her little Pat, 6, when he thought the Park Department officials had forgotten him, and made some mental notes to improve his pitching in future years. Mrs. E. H. Kemper, 2742 58th Ave. S. W., with her tense, "Take it easy, boys, take it easy," worked her 10-year-old Kenneth into the finals. He finally lost.

What is a gathering of boys without a fight, a couple of little "kids" and a dog? Alki had them all. Richard Hallbar, 12, of 2425 Alki Ave., 100 pounds, joined John Hunter, 12, of 3211 62nd Ave. S. W., 97 pounds, in a grunt-and-growl contest involving much exertion and dirt, but little damage. They "wrestled" behind old Woody.

Toughest home was "battling" Dickie Young, 4, of 2726 58th Ave. S. W., who proclaimed himself ready, willing and able to take all comers—until The Times photographer arrived, whereupon Dickie beat a hasty retreat and would not be photographed.

A friendly pup, Hot Diggedy, owned by Aimee Faries, 15, of 2746 58th Ave. S. W., proved his affectionate nature by caressing Buddy Wangness, 3, of 2644 59th Ave. S. W.

Boys who had not reached their fourteenth birthday anniversary—April 19, the opening day of the 1937 contest, are eligible for competition. Playfield winners are given silver watchfobs, and the all-city winner is given a gold watch and fob by The Times. All entrants are given tickets to the Seattle-Missions game and the finals June 5.

Other contestants:

SOLDIERS TRAIN AT DOUBLE QUICK

TACOMA, Tuesday, April 27.—(AP)—Seven regiments of the 3rd Division, United States Army, moved on the double quick through underbrush at Fort Lewis today, studying the problem of getting from one place to another faster than "enemy" guns can follow.

In the second day of spring maneuvers, colonels were supreme, directing their men in movements toward positions from which theoretical attacks will later be launched.

The 7,500 men moved independently in regimental groups, the artillery reconnoitering and selecting firing positions and the infantry moving under cover to strategic points from which to push open field attacks.

Seven regiments, the 4th, 7th, 30th and 38th Infantry, the 6th Engineers and the 9th and 10th Field Artillery, were involved. The maneuvers now being practiced are to be used later when the division begins brigade training in the second phase of the month-long encampment.

Dillinger Aide Slain, Carrying $50,000 Jewels

CHICAGO, Tuesday, April 27.—(AP)—Federal agents and police examined today the record of Albert Montlake as a "fence" for the old Dillinger gang, in the hope it might offer a clue to the slayer who shot him to death as he begged for mercy.

In Montlake's pockets and in his car police found diamonds and jewelry they valued at $50,000.

Montlake's killer leaped from a car on a South Side street last night, pursued him across a vacant lot and fired nine bullets into his body.

The 40-year-old slain man was indicted recently by a federal jury in New York on charges of conspiracy to transport $21,000 worth of bonds stolen from the American Bank & Trust Company, Racine, Wis., in 1933 by the Dillinger gang.

The man's widow, Mrs. Anna Montlake, told police her husband had been "expecting it for some time" because of the federal indictment.

NEWS VENDER'S TIP JAILS TRIO

Three men were held in the city jail today for United States Secret Service agents after a tip by William Meyers, 607 Marion St., a newspaper vender, led to their arrest as suspected counterfeiters.

Meyers, who has a stand at Third Avenue and Yesler Way, received a counterfeit 50-cent piece yesterday afternoon, and promptly turned it over to police. A few minutes later Patrolmen C. L. McGuire and D. S. Church arrested Paul Strand, 37 years old; Hans Schumann, 29, and W. H. Swift, 37.

Raiding Swift's hotel room at 706 1/2 Yesler Way, police said they found a counterfeit meuld with a 25-cent piece in the making. Police said they also found two counterfeit 50-cent pieces in Strand's possession.

Full Home Comfort

means more than warmth from fuel, easy chairs and soft beds. It means comfort for the feet, eye and soul.

There's nothing more comfortable to tread upon than the long, silky nap of a thick Oriental rug; nothing more artistic to look upon than its colorful designs; nothing more inspirational than its intuitive message of life.

Full home comfort calls for rich Oriental rugs; rich in color, fabric and design. Our Temple of Oriental Rugs is maintained for the express purpose of supplying the extra joy of life sought by the discriminating.
